

Iroquois Insider 29th Edition

A Year of Changes

Reflecting on a year of changes, we began 2017 celebrating 25 years of Iroquois. In September, we introduced some new recourse rates, (see Iroquois Insider, ed. 28 for details). November marked a successful receipt of physical gas from Dominion Energy Transmission, Inc. at our Canajoharie location.

As 2017 winds down, our AIM may be off but it looks like there is plenty of ICE in our future! Ever since AOL announced it was discontinuing its Instant Messaging service this December, it was a bit devastating in the scheduling world. Like any painful wound, ICE took the sting out of our dilemma. We have quickly adopted the InterContinental Exchange Instant Messaging!

Our new ICE identifiers are as follows: hclancy, jkosich, mnmchek, galcoforado, gbennett, agilbert, ksatterlee, tbarone1, cstutz and cedelbaum.

We wish you all a happy and prosperous 2018!

Our Iroquois Tree Has a New Bulb

Keeping with the holiday theme, please join me in welcoming Heather Chappa, the newest member of the Iroquois family. She joins us with "glowing" reviews as an experienced paralegal in contract management formerly employed by GE Capital and AIG.

As the new Contracting and Credit Services Representative, Heather reports directly to Maria Fairfield and will be your contact for new or existing contracts and credit matters.

Heather can be reached at 203-925-7229, ICE: hchappa or Heather_Chappa@Iroquois.com.

Also for greater efficiency, a department e-mail has been set up: contractingandcredit@iroquois.com. Please forward this information to your Contract and Credit departments.

In the event that Heather is out of the office, contact Maria Nemchek-Fairfield, maria_fairfield@iroquois.com or ICE: mnmchek

Celebrate Good Times

Five years ago I introduced all of you to Jennifer Erickson, our new Transportation and Scheduling Representative.

In 2017 Jenn has had a few new things to celebrate. In August she was married and is now known as Jennifer Kosich. As you can imagine, Jenn made a beautiful bride and the wedding was lots of fun! The celebration does not end there, as just this week she was promoted to Senior Transportation and Scheduling Coordinator!

Jenn will still be your first line of contact for all your transportation, capacity release and scheduling needs and in addition will be backing up Maria for IT and PAL availability.
Way to go Jenn!
